

1994

The early settlers of the New World found themselves surrounded by nature. Now, the tables are turned. Nature is surrounded by people, mostly city dwellers and their urban landmarks. For better or worse, the promised land is characterized by dispiriting cityscape of bleak canyons and desperate souls. But need the hope of America be obliterated by the megalopolis? A positive prognosis is not readily forth-coming. The urban perplex is too formidable. The city's energies are too disparate and disjunctive. The riddle of tomorrow depends upon a new generation of city-builders. The urban landscape needs more than a patch-up and a clean-up. A repair and maintenance job won't redeem dreams. The city needs its greening. The city needs what untrammelled nature offered: the nurturing and attainment of dreams. The city needs to retrieve hope and to spawn ideas. The city needs to rediscover its soul. The tasks of recasting and elevating the city life, physically and spiritually, fall to ingenious designers. No cadre of learned professionals and enlightened citizens can match your own promise. No group of modern-day Athenians can parallel your leadership potential for urban transformation. Already, you are able architects, artists and engineers of import. Your demanding years at Cooper mark you as rising designers of consequence. As designers of tomorrows, you will employ your sense of integrity and your gift of imagination to help bring vital urban agenda to the fore. Clearly, knotty city situations will tax your demonstrable skills as problem solvers. But reaction alone cannot save the city. Your hard work must be anticipatory. Your challenge is to dispatch hardship, eliminate distress and override mediocrity before they fester. Your contribution must be blessed with foresight. As you embark on your daunting yet doable callings, you should take heart that your college is itself urban-bound. You have mastered your skills and tested your leadership in the central city. You bring cultivation and savvy to your urban assignment. You also bring a conviction inherited from the founder of Cooper Union. Modestly describing himself as but a "mechanic of New York," Peter Cooper embodied an urbanity of daring and determination. He possessed an uncanny eye for the city's horizon. He expected the college to emulate his aspiration: to be the dependable source of city-building. Along with your laudable talents, you carry forth his faith. You are legatees of a 135 year-old belief: There can yet be the fabled city on a hill, a glorious place of humanity, opportunity and fulfillment. Your Cooper colleagues - faculty, staff, students and friends - wish you well, in rewarding pursuits as pioneering settlers and shapers of a gleaming urban domain.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

The image features a minimalist, abstract design. A large, dark, textured rectangular block is positioned on the left side. To its right, a solid black circle is centered vertically. Below the circle, the text "School of" is written in a white, sans-serif font. To the right of this text, the word "Architecture" is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font. A horizontal white line is located below the "School of" text. On the far left, a white rectangular block is partially visible. At the bottom, a white rectangular block is positioned to the left of a horizontal line that extends to the right. A small, dark, curved shape is located to the right of the main dark block, near the bottom. The overall composition is clean and modern, with a focus on geometric forms and typography.

I'll See You Tomorrow

Two years. Two years. That's like a roll in the grass. It goes by fast. We were there once. Do you remember. Has your memory failed you now that these years have passed. As they continue to pass.

The sun is now shining. It calls me to come with it outside and play. The tree, my tree, so large, so vast this year, stands basking in the vitamin C rays of the sun. Will you come out and play with me. I'll groom you if you groom me.

Let's go down to the slip and share a drink. The lions have had their fill already.

"It's safe."

"No it's not."

"Yes it is."

I think it's worth the risk to be eaten, to spend a moment with you. To be eaten together, than not be given a minute of breathing in the breath of life you breathe.

It is dark now, the nightness calls me to watch its display of lights.

You reprimand me.

I think you like it.

For here have we no continuing city,
But we seek one to come.

And the city lieth four square,
And the length is as large as the breadth...
The length and the breadth
And the height of it are equal.

And the city had no need of the sun,
Neither the moon, to shine in it:
For the glory of God did lighten it,
And the lamb is the light thereof.

Ballad of Cuzco

A llama wished
To have golden hair.
Brilliant as the sun.
Strong as love
And soft as the mist
That the dawn dissolves.
To weave a braid
On which to mark.
Knot by knot.
The moons that pass.
The flowers that die.

Grandmother has braided
in my heart. that light

ANT. Ants have been living on the earth for more than 100 million years. During this span many other kinds of animals came into existence and then lost out in the struggle for survival. Man became the world's master, making vast changes in its natural state. But in spite of keen competition for survival and changing living conditions, ants have continued to thrive.

The Life of an Ant Colony. There is great variety in the activities of different kinds of ants - so great that it is not possible to describe here all their living habits beyond saying that every kind of ant is social. All are organized in groups, or castes, consisting, fundamentally, of a queen mother and her offspring - the workers and males. However, the males exist only for short reproductive seasons and are not really a part of colony life. Sometimes there may be more than one queen in a colony.

One of the phenomena which had particularly attracted my attention was the structure of the human frame, and, indeed, any animal imbued with life. Whence, I often asked myself, did the principle of life proceed? It was a bold question, and one which has ever been considered as a mystery; yet with how many things are we upon the brink of becoming acquainted, if cowardice or carelessness did not restrain our inquiries.

It was on a dreary night of November that I beheld the accomplishment of my toils. With an anxiety that almost amounted to agony, I collected the instruments of life around me, that I might infuse a spark of being into the lifeless thing that lay at my feet. It was already one in the morning; the rain pattered dismally against the panes, and my candle was nearly burnt out, when, by the glimmer of the half-extinguished light, I saw the dull yellow eye of the creature open; it breathed hard, and a convulsive motion agitated its limbs.

First and foremost, I must give credit where credit is due. If I were to thank all the people who have helped me survive the great challenge that is Cooper Union, it would fill this yearbook. Therefore, a general "thank you" to all my family and friends must suffice. However, there are two people that I must thank explicitly, and they are my parents. Without the assistance (moral, financial, etc.) from my wonderful parents, I could not have achieved the great honor of graduating from THE BEST engineering school in America. Thanks mom and dad. I love you more than you can know.

Secondly, I would like to leave the readers of this yearbook with a quote from the short story "Green Days in Brunei" by Bruce Sterling. This quote explains, quite simply, why the only thing that I ever want to be is an engineer.

But the gift is real - Brooke had told him so,
and now Turner realized it was true.
That was the reason for engineering.
Not for money, because there was more money in shuffling paper.
Not for power, that was in management.
For the gift itself.

Sea Fever by John Masefield (1878-2967)

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and sky.

And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by.

And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking.

And a grey mist on the sea's face, and a grey dawn breaking.

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide.

Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied:

And all I ask is windy day with the white clouds flying.

And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the sea gulls crying.

I must go down to the seas again, to the vagrant gypsy life.

To the gull's way and the whale's way, where the wind's like a whetted knife:

And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow rover.

And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

"Know thy foe and know thyself: In a hundred battles, you will never know defeat.

Know thyself and know not the foe: The outcome will be pure chance.

Know neither thy foe nor thyself: In a hundred battles, you will never taste the fruits of victory."

To my excellent lab crew - "His lights on, but he's just not there."

To Miss Pooh - "Humanities without you would be far less memorable."

54

To Civil Engineering Section - "We build - and the earth bleeds."

To my parents: In a world where parental responsibilities are too often neglected, you are bastions of guidance and compassion. I have never idolized or emulated any one else, and I love you both very much.

To my beautiful sisters: Thank you for being who you are. (Pardon the cliché.) Though I am older, I am most certainly not wiser - I learn more about coolness and creativity from you guys everyday.

Thanks to my brothers in Zeta Psi and my friends who picked me out of the gutter when I needed it. It's a pretty safe bet to say that I wouldn't have made it without you. Thanks also to the professors who gave me a helping hand when I was in trouble. Finally, I would like to thank Peter Cooper, who gave me something many can only dream about for free.

"My earnest desire is to make this building and institution contribute in every way possible to unite all in one common effort to improve each and every human being, seeing that we are bound up in one common destiny and by the laws of our being are made dependent for our happiness on the continued acts of kindness we receive from each other."

"I trust that the students of this institution will do something to bear back the might torrent of evils now pressing on the world. I trust that here they will learn to overcome the evils of life with kindness and affection. I trust that here they will find that all true greatness consists in using all the powers they possess to do unto others as they would that others should do unto them; and in this way to become really great by becoming the servant of all."

To Ronnie: For a person who is so conscious about his appearance, why do you have a robe with "Diane" written across the chest? Thanks for the late night conversations. And Long live Melissa.

To Pat: Have I frustrated you yet? I will always owe you a kidney shot. Pat, you are the best, but pal don't forget to open up to your friends.

To Nick: From NFC President (a Long Island Guido in Denial), to a decent guy with occasional flashes of class: I guess I've rub off on you after all. You lousy drunk, don't let life pile drive you in the corner. And of course, don't forget the cohna. Thanks for putting up with me through the hard times.

To Dino: Dino, Italian guys like you don't grow on olive trees. I've always admired you for your decision.

To Thursday Nights at the Railroad: You made class on Friday mornings optional.

64

Thursday Night Poem:

Oh, Thursday night, you're here at last.
How did I finish my 40 so fast?
Dice are rolled, and rules are set.
Nick is itchin' to make a bet.
Doubles are rolled. Who shall drink?
Ronnie, the light-weight, is on the brink.
A social comes up and we all cheer.
Poor Rich is drunk and spills his beer.
Nick stands up, be careful Lou.
He pile drives himself on a dirty old shoe.
Thursday night ends, why did I bother?
Don't worry, next week there will be another!

As I sit here in front of this dumb terminal trying to think of what to write. I can't help but think back to the past four years spent here. There were some happy moments and some not so happy ones, but after all is said and done I think this experience was rather memorable. I also think that if not for all my friends who went through hell with me. I would not have made it this far. Here's to all my friends who stuck with me through the good times and the bad. Relationships come and go, but friends are forever.

I can't remember how many birthdays we celebrated together. How many times we hung out through the night together. How many times we laughed together. How many embarrassing moments we endured together. Those were the days...

To all my friends, I hope you know who you are. I wish you the best of luck in future ventures. If you make it big try not to forget who your friends really are. Remember "the Crowd" and remember all the goodtimes that we shared together.

I would like to take the time to remember a friend of ours who had the fortune to leave hell early. You didn't know it before but you were the lucky one...

To the graduating class of '94: Congratulations!!!

To all The Brothers: Thanks for the fun time together and all that time eating Chinese foods and BBQ chickens.

To Gauram Desai and Mark DeWilde: When are you two getting married? By the way Gau-man you look mighty sharp!!!

To Brother Paul: Let's sue (you know who) for discrimination and sexual harassment. That guy deserved to be in hell after all the suffering we endured... Anyway, I think you're a fantastic person...

To Stevie Wonder, Phil, Joe, Kai, Mike: Thanks for being good friends, and the best of luck in life. Keep in touch.

To the triplets (Vicky, Connie and Ellen): It's a pleasure to know wonderful people like you. Best wishes and keep in touch.

To Yip Man Tsang: Thanks for being an understandable and excellent friend. Remember the car flat on the Manhattan Bridge and the sleepless nights for Shinner's and Sandler's tests.

To Ted, Pramod, Peter, Wai Man, Sal, Amit, the O'Donnel Brothers and the rest of the EE class, and friends: Good Luck and Best Wishes.

To Tam: You're a great friend. Party anyone?

To Healkan Cheung: I've known you the longest and admire your outstanding character. However, it's time to get out of the closet and face the world like a man... Anyway, thanks for all your unselfish help and keep in touch. (MSI forever)

After all the struggle, I have achieved my goal of being a Cooper Graduate. I couldn't have asked for anything better from God. Thanks be to God.

THANKS TO:

My father and my mother who passed away before my graduation. May your souls rest in perfect peace. This my degree is dedicated to both of them. My wife, Julie, who always gave me the support I needed to go the extra mile to finish.

My brother, Alex, who always prayed for me. I am happy your prayers have been answered by God - I'm finally finished.

My older brothers and sisters who inspired me to hang in there. Thanks Dr. Joseph for all your support.

My best friend and brother, Eric Foster who was there when I needed help. Without you I know that my life would not have been the same. Big thanks to your father, Nelson Foster, and to your mother Evelyn Foster, for their priceless support.

President John Jay Iselin, Dean E. Baum, Dean A. Luchessi, Prof. Brazinsky, Prof. S.I. Chen, Prof. Ahmed Zikri, Prof. Okorafor, Prof. A. Newmark, Pam Jones, Michele Thompson, and Dean Bory. Thanks to you all for offering me an opportunity the second time around. Life has been a struggle, but with your valuable help I have seen the end of the rainbow.

To all my friends not mentioned. You are not forgotten. Thanks for putting up with me, and listening to my endless talk.

To all my classmates especially Jack Marshak for all your valuable help. So it is in the light of our accomplishments that I would like to propose a toast to all of us, to the class of 1994, may our futures be clear, bright and prosperous. May the Almighty God lead us in the right path - AMEN

Typically Cooper, too many things to do and too little time to do it, and that is why I waited till the last minute to do this, and why it is as short and inadequate as it is (and probably why I make no sense). Unlike most people in this yearbook, I am taking the five year plan, especially after making my life miserable switching from BSE to ChemE and need to thank everyone who helped me get through it. I need to extend my thanks to the Railroad, the Loft and YAXFIL for hosting many of our antics, noise and mess. I should have gone to the University of Buffalo, and I thought I never would like a small school, but thanks to my Fraternity Brothers and good friends I made here, I stayed and will probably graduate. Hopefully I will see many of you at Beer Quest 2002 or Carty's, and God Forbid, Billy's. Don't be strangers. Keep in touch

To Tony, Joe, and the rest of the five year crew...we did it! And now all I can tell you guys is to remember this:

Yesterday was a cancelled check.

Tomorrow is a promissory note.

Today is all the time you have.

So spend it wisely.

Oh, if I become rich and powerful, I'll remember to get:

1) Tony a batting instructor

2) Sonny all the hats he ever wanted

3) Joe a book which translates all those TKD words and for the rest of you... how about a hot plate of corn lasagna.

Good luck guys and I'll have your gifts ready in five years.

There are a few words for my best friends.

To Paul (Wan Bor) Chiu:

Cooper Union may be a nightmare to you.
Forget about school and get the best out of your work experiences. Remember, you are a smart guy.

To Healkan:

Among my friends, you are the most admiring person to me. You are good at everything and anything academically.
Thank you for your help in these 4 years.

To Michael (Chi Hung):

To be a foreign student, you may feel lonely sometimes. I hope you can feel warm and loved among us.

To Philip (Wai Lun):

I found the image of myself in you.
What image?
We both hate engineering. If we could go back in time, we would have chosen another major.....

To Joe:

Although you are small physically, your heart is large. Your generosity and friendliness will be remembered.

To Duo:

You are the smartest guy I ever knew.
Keep up the good work.

To Ly:

You are so nice and friendly. Do you remember that you are the first guy I talked to at Cooper? Guess where?

To others:

You are all terrific! I will miss you all.

H: Aren't you supposed to be doing your homework now?

C: I quit doing homework. Homework is bad for my self-esteem.

H: It is?

C: Sure! It sends the message that I don't know enough! All that emphasis on right answers makes me feel bad when I get them wrong. So instead of trying to learn, I'm just concentrating on liking myself the way I am.

H: Your self-esteem is enhanced by remaining an ignoramus?

C: Please! Let's call it "informationally impaired."

To my friends:

Nick "the Greek" went on to open up America's favorite Greek restaurant franchise, known simply as "Nick's: Home of the Zeus Gyro." The self-proclaimed "Gyro-King" proudly displays his Cooper Union diploma in the window of his East Meadow restaurant where every Tuesday, women get a free Gyro if they dance with the owner.

Ron was "discovered" when a Hollywood agent overheard him mouthing off on the street. He went on to become America's favorite T.V. game show host, and author of a best seller on etiquette for gentlemen. (Ronnie baby, you're like school on Sunday - No class)

Tony (the false Italian) went on to start his own company, BOHICA Inc., a top NYC engineering firm. When asked how he achieved such success so early in life, Tony leaned back in his chair and replied, "You don't worry about that."

Jambo, One of America's most prominent educators, Professor Jambo went on to win the Nobel Prize in Physics.

Ip Dave: Remember Camden Palace, the Isle of Wight, Paris, running up the steps of the Eiffel Tower (like 2 chucks) because we were too cheap to pay for the elevator, macaroni & cheese for 2 months. You'll always have a friend at The Anvil. God Save the Queen.

Tony (Fathead): Remember "The Big Issue" Sfachime

Kathy: Your eyes remind me of the Mona Lisa (In Italy, Mama cooks di pasta on the train...)

Bihn (smooth as silk):

After an extensive FBI investigation into the operation of the notorious Squad 4, three figures, going only by the names of Boss, Whispers, and Mugsy, were apprehended in a raid of the Cooper Union Junior Laboratory. These three, currently seniors, could not recall anything they did in Junior Lab but nevertheless denied everything. Whispers was rumored to have been repeating "forty ohms, forty ohms..." in an almost indiscernible mutter as the group was escorted away. An anonymous informer is rumored to have been the key to the FBI's infiltration of The Squad that Time Forgot and is currently enrolled in the witness protection program.

Life is short but colorful, whether you have chosen a philosophical or materialistic style of living. Failure is just another mode of lifelong learning, which has always far superceded that of success. A man with strong will who has fought his way to the top of the Golden Pyramid of Life had only used three basic weapons - Philosophy, Intelligence, and Kung Fu.

Award of the Silver Star

For heroism and gallantry in ground combat in the Republic of Vietnam. 13 to 25 August 1970. Lieutenant Colonel Dinky Dau GreenMan distinguished himself while serving as commanding officer of a bunch of dumbass troops during operations near Firebase Barnett. During the entire operation the GreenMan repeatedly supervised ground and air forces which got fucked up for looking for a meaningless bunker complex. The GreenMan directed artillery and tactical air support against enemy hills, trees and grass. He listened on the radio repeatedly as his units were ambushed and attacked. After the enemy forces were routed, he, without regard for his personal safety, tabulated the reported dead. From the air [in his personal helicopter] he repeatedly urged boonierats on and he engineered attacks and counterattacks for them to carry out. During the operation the GreenMan also managed to take twelve hot showers in the rear, eat thirty hot meals and read twenty-seven Fantastic Four comic books. The GreenMan's personal bravery and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army.

He's still there in room 605.
Or she, I can't really tell.
Bony face with bloodshot eyes.
Equally bony hands, one tightly clenching a pencil.
Another frantically punching numbers into a calculator.
Oblivious to the world, occasionally mumbling a few unintelligible words.
He never did graduate.
As a graduating senior, and as the real world looms ahead.
I ask myself, and my fellow products of Cooper Union,
Is there more to life than engineering?
Is there more to a life than a 60K job, a car, 2.3 kids and the nitrogen cycle?
There sure is.

In my high school yearbook

I wrote some very corny stuff so I'll try to atone here.

As I'm writing this, I can remember at exactly this day last year, we were suffering through the second Fisher exam. Those exams will always stand out to me as times of true anguish (Huh-huh I said "anguish" Huh-huh-huh), so remember, when things get tough, don't forget those 9 day tests...

Uuuuh huh-huh this is cool.

Mark (Thanks for letting me use your locker, for 4 years - The Rangers and Yankees games were fun and hopefully when this book comes out, we will have finally made it to Montreal after about two years of trying.)

Paul (Sorry I missed your house on Great Adventure day I'm glad nobody answered the door at the other house-Huh-huh, I must come from that place...)

Alex (D'oh!-Get well soon-Thanks for introducing me to Calvin - he's cool, Huh-huh.)

Spring break hockey night at MSG should become a tradition.

Gary (we were practically partners in Organic Lab). Maria and Couldn't have gotten through the past four years without any of you. I know all of you will have great success wherever the world guides you or where you guide the world.

First of all, I have to thank my family for putting up with me for all these years. Thank you for your understanding and support. I owe much more to you than can be expressed. As for school, it's over! For those willing to reminisce. Why?

To Nick: True friends are few and far between.

To Alex: I've been thinking ...

"Did you say the stars were worlds, Tess?"

"Yes."

"All like ours?"

"I don't know; but I think so. They sometimes seem to be like the apples on our stubborn tree. Most of them splendid and sound-a few blighted."

"Which do we live on-a splendid one or a blighted one?"

"A blighted one."

Lewis Miller

They told me you had been to her.
And mentioned me to him;
She gave me a good character,
But said I could not swim.

He sent them word that I had not gone
(We know it to be true)
If she should push the matter on,
What would become of you?

I gave her one, they gave him two,
You gave us three or more;
They all returned from him to you,
Though they were mine before.

If I or she should chance to be Involved in this affair,
He trusts to you to set them free,
Exactly as we were.

My notion was that you had been (Before she had this fit)
An obstacle that came between Him, and ourselves, and it.

Don't let him know she liked them best.
For this must ever be
A secret, kept from all the rest.
Between yourself and me.

Thanks to everybody that got me through these four years at Cooper. Mom and Dad: I couldn't have done it without all your love and support. The CE crew: Let's make a vow to stay out of rooms 234 and 243 since we've already spent most of our lives there. Eugene and Henry: Thanks for keeping my summers interesting and my weekends fun-filled. Suet Yee and Athena: I'll love you both forever and ever. Jambo and the ME family: Stay out of trouble and keep with your people.

Go placidly amid the noise and the haste,
and remember what peace there may be in silence,
as far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons...

Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.
Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession
in the changing fortune of time...

Take kindly to the counsel of the years,
gracefully surrendering the things of youth.
Nurture strength of spirit
to shield you in sudden misfortune.
But do not distress yourself with imaginings.
Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.

Beyond a wholesome discipline be gentle with yourself.

you have to light to be here.
And whether or not it is clear to you,
no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God,
whatever you conceive Him to be.
And whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life,
keep peace with your soul.

drudgery and broken dreams,
it is still a beautiful world.

Greetings everyone, well here I am, finally graduating. First of all I would like to thank my parents for all their support and for not giving up on me over the years. Next I would like to thank all my friends for all their help during the stressful times. I wouldn't have made it without them. Although I learned many formulas and equations during my stay at Cooper Union, most importantly I learned about life. I learned how to experience it and how to enjoy it. For this I am eternally grateful. I hope everyone has a long and happy life, may all your dreams come true. Best of luck to all.

To all of those who have taught me, healed me and helped me.

God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom always to tell the difference.

Kurt Vonnegut's Slaughterhouse 5

Whoever battles with monsters had better see that it does not turn him into a monster...and if you gaze long into an abyss, the abyss will gaze back into you.

F. Nietzsche

A monkee dressed like a beatle walks into the jungle and stumbles across a hendrix, sitting in front of a river...then forever more they both become rolling stones that spirit westerberg into the sun...Yeah man...Smookin'...I can dig that ...can you???

Tony: My favorite grape squashing, olive oil eating, porkchop friend. Cherish the good times: your 22nd birthday, me carrying you up 4 flights of stairs every Friday night or vice-versa, definitely vice versa. Daytona Spring Break, Schlitz beer and Cohna in general. By the way, I don't have a Long Island mentality, you piece of Ron: Do I have a God complex, let me tell you something Scam, I am God. Ron, we had great times together. Even though you're an ME and a Cowboys fan, I still love you. Ronnie, take a run! I'll never forget BOCES, Schmidr's beer, Linda's long legs, Dice Clay and just getting FUBARed. If I was a girl Ron, I wouldn't be able to control myself. I'll never forget the time you beat me in a chugging contest at a Columbia party, freshman year.

Pat: You're the best. Thanks for putting up with me all these years. I've gotten much class hanging out with you. Even though the Armenians stole everything from the Greeks, besides jewelry making and starving to death, I still love you. Tony and Ron, the two greatest roommates a guy could have, don't ever forget the finer things in life, like cohna. You guys have taught me to have no class whatsoever, which is just fine with me. Quick, I hear there's a sale on Piels Light beer. Give me a Peter Cooper barfbag quickly. Where's Hayes? I have to feed the tapeworm. COHNA is inevitable. NFC.

Nicholas Koutrakos

In leaving this institution of higher torture, I would just like to thank all the guys from the "loft" and the "railroad" for making my senior year one for the record books. Most of all, I wish to thank my Zeta Psi brothers for their friendship and help, without which I would never have been able to get through my four years of Cooper with my sanity intact.

Of all the great gifts this institution has given me, Zeta Psi was the greatest. In closing, I would like to list some of the things that I want to remember when I pick up this book to read it in 30 years: Bar Tour '93; "Dumb Mic"-Jerry Gay; The Michael Lewy Interview; "Rewind"-Henry Villadiego (usually said to Mike Bartolone); "I'm in spherical coordinates"-Lou Post; Ronnie Races; BEERQUEST 2002; Deathhead Dice; Wales Tales; U Chug; Irish hammer; "Hullo"-Evan Boyar; Pillow Controversy; Apartment Bannings; "Fuck Ronnie"-Post; MEAD, CTTC, CASBAA and MEALAF; Barreraduck; Falvey For President; Happy Fun Sean; CUGS; "I'm the king of the Jokers"-Jambo; "Fight the Good Fight"-Eamon Heavey; and finally, Golden Anniversary, the official beer of 22nd Street.

Let's go to a rhythmic ceremonial ritual.
We're the ———, ——— Simon, Theodore!
Stop making fun of me.
I feel greaaaat!
Anyway.

Gee. That's just terrible.

So this is what I did:
 President of Tau Beta Pi:
 the National Engineering Honor Society of the N.Y.
 Iota Chapter.
 Vice President of Eta Kappa Nu:
 the New Electrical Engineering Honor Society
 Member of the IEEE.
 So what?!?

To Amit.
 Love, Alison:

I'm outta
 here!!!

For fun I was a rock-
 n-rock, fun loving,
 stick twirling, double-
 bass mania drummer,
 and because there is so much free time in Cooper I had plenty of time to do it.

There are those who fly to the highest heights.
 And every day your need grows higher. On your wings you carry the realms of hopes and dreams. For you can conquer all obstacles which you desire. Across the midnight sky eagerly you will fly. With trust as your guardian and love as your guide. The sky is no longer the limit in your life.

Future shock... the shattering stress and disorientation that we induce in individuals by subjecting them to too much change in too short a time.

-Alvin Toffler
Future Shock

An active field of science is like an immense anthill; the individual almost vanishes into the mass of minds tumbling over each other, carrying information from place to place, passing it around at the speed of light.

Before patting myself on the back, I feel that there are a few people who have influenced some of my decisions and development for which I am very grateful. To my family, and particularly Mom and Dad, without whose patience and caring I would not be where I am today. I thank you. To my instructors and professors, who do not always seem to gain respect due to our frustration: Remember - knowledge alone is not the key, but the honor of passing it on to others and seeing them grow is the true joy. Finally, to all of my friends and acquaintances, far too many to name here, thanks for your shoulders and ears and for dealing with my personality. Friends are the ones who keep us sane and help us put everything into perspective, not to mention provide the comic relief.

Now as our sun sets in this part of our world and the dawn prepares to break over a new page, let us remember the lessons we learned here - not only the scholastic ones - and leap into life.

So long, thanks for all the fish.

I would like to thank my Mom, Dad and Junie Bear for putting up with me through the last five hectic years. You were always there for me when I needed you. A toast to some of the unforgettable people and "moments" of this year: Athena, Joanne & Brian-truly a "power" senior design team. Andy - I like flow more. Paul - I'll tango on to Ryan's anytime. Joe - to conga lines and pink drinks. Tony - thanks for letting me drill, the Eiffel Tour and all the calls to Ischia. Davey - Camden Palace, Berlin to Munich, Genove to Florence, London to Dublin need I say any more. Kris - or are you Mickey Mouse?. Kevin - you chug! Athena - couldn't have asked for a better roomie. Monica - never forget. Paris, one of the best times I've had. Pat - mama's cooking up the pasta right now. Sonny-we did it! Suet Yee & Heather, my Delta Eta sisters. Squid's Revenge, Marianna-we'll always have Venice & Cappucino, the new & improved homebodies and our horseback riding escapades. Tanya, Anna, the Imperial College lunch crew, Professor Chul, "Roundheads", Barcelona, loungefest, Baker's ski trips, Thursday nights, McSorely's & Phobes, wakeup calls, numerous all nighters, coffee, counting boxes, Munich Hell, Hotel Milan, close encounters with water and soils, Senior CE's, BOOP and "purejoy."

On tuesday, September 21, 1993, I received a telephone call at 4:00 in the morning. My grandfather had passed away. My living GOD was dead. The guiding light is extinguished, yet I carry on the flame. I wish to dedicate my four years to him and my life to his philosophies.
Rest in peace.

I couldn't decide
which picture to use.
The one that looks like a fashion ad just isn't me. I like the one where I'm sitting down because I can
hear myself laughing.
It also reminds me
of people telling me
my eyes disappear
when I smile.
